

Round Spring Cave is open for ranger-led tours from Memorial Day to Labor Day. Ticket prices for the cave have remained the same for many years and are substantially lower than other tour caves in the region. Increased tour fees would help ensure tours of this spectacular resource can continue with essential equipment and educational materials.

Proposed fees April 15 to October 15 are as follows:

An off-season camping fee would be formally established for the park’s front-country campgrounds, from October 16 to April 14 annually. The front-country campgrounds have minimal services available during that period, though water remains on at several locations with frost-proof plumbing and equipment. These campgrounds will have at least one restroom open that is heated and serviced regularly. Most locations will still have hot showers available.
