

Guide for Using the Adobe Acrobat Version of the Draft Bison and Elk Management Plan and Environmental Impact Statement

The document is divided into 12 files, which are consecutively numbered. The title page and the summary are included in the first file, and the master table of contents in the second file. The master contents has links to all the other text files. Linked files are indicated by boxes around text headings. Map pages are also linked to the specific map files and will open in a new window in Adobe Acrobat Reader; when you close the map, you will go back to the parent file.

In each text file the table of contents for that chapter or section is linked to each of the text headings shown. In addition, the major headings are bookmarked (click on the “Bookmarks” tab) for easy navigation through the document. For each file there are also bookmarks that will take you to either the next sequential file or back to the master contents.