

Women's Rights National History Trail Feasibility Study

Study Report 2002

source for cover: Library of Congress

This report has been prepared to provide Congress and the public with information about resources in the study area, and how they relate to the criteria for national historic trails applied by the professional staff of the National Park Service. Publication and transmittal of this report, including any discussion of a preferred course of action, should not be considered an endorsement or commitment by the National Park Service to seek or support either specific legislative authorization for a project, or appropriations for its implementation. Authorization and funding for any new commitments by the National Park Service will have to be considered in light of competing priorities for existing units of the National Park Service and other programs.

For additional copies or more information contact:

National Park Service
Boston Support Office
Planning and Legislation

15 State Street
Boston, MA 02109

(617) 223-5051

or visit

the Women's Rights National Historical Park's website at www.nps.gov/wori
to view the online version of this document.

National Park Service
Boston Support Office

15 State Street
Boston, MA 02109

T. 617.223.5051

www.nps.gov/wori