

We want to hear from you!

The National Park Service is conducting a study of nationally significant civil rights sites in Mississippi.

In 2017, Congress passed a law directing the National Park Service (NPS) to begin a special resource study of nationally significant civil rights-related historic sites to determine the potential for the designation of a new national park unit in the state of Mississippi.

The NPS team is gathering information about civil rights-related sites through historical research and public input. You can provide input in one of three ways:

Attend an open house

Monday, May 7, 2018, 11:30 a.m. – 1:30 p.m.
Mississippi Delta National Heritage Area
Delta State University
Jacob Conference Center, Ewing Hall
Highway 8 West
Cleveland, Mississippi 38733

Monday, May 7, 2018, 5:00 p.m. – 7:00 p.m.
Tallahatchie County Courthouse
401 West Court Street
Sumner, Mississippi 38957

Tuesday, May 8, 2018, 11:30 a.m. – 1:30 p.m.
Two Mississippi Museums Auditorium
222 North Street
Jackson, Mississippi 39201

Tuesday, May 8, 2018, 5:00 p.m. – 7:00 p.m.
Medgar Evers Library
4215 Medgar Evers Boulevard
Jackson, Mississippi 39213

Wednesday, May 9, 2018, 5:00 p.m. – 7:00 p.m.
The Depot
256 West Beacon Street
Philadelphia, Mississippi 39350

Thursday, May 10, 2018, 5:00 p.m. – 7:00 p.m.
Biloxi Visitor Center
1050 Beach Boulevard
Biloxi, Mississippi 39201

Visit the project website

Visit the project website for updated information and to comment on the study:

http://parkplanning.nps.gov/MSCR_SRS

Send questions and feedback to:

Justin Henderson
justin_henderson@nps.gov, 303-969-2540
Mississippi Civil Rights Sites Special Resource Study
National Park Service - Denver Service Center
12795 W. Alameda Parkway
Lakewood, CO 80228