Chatham Manor

One of seven chiller units in the attic of Chatham Manor. The units will be removed

Looking from a second floor office in Chatham Manor into the bathroom that will house the new air handler

Inside the former bathroom on the second floor of Chatham Manor. The bathtub is visible below the makeshift cabinets holding office equipment. A wood support will be built over the bathtub and the air handler will be placed on the platform. The ductwork will vent through a hole cut in the plywood ceiling above.

Chatham Carriage House

Heat pump behind the Chatham Carriage House, that serves the office and library in the building.
The heat pump will be replaced.
