PROJECT DESCRIPTION

Memorial Goals

Commemoration

- Recognize and honor journalists' heroism and lives sacrificed in service to democracy.
- Convey the dangers journalists face in protecting and documenting the truth enabled by freedom of the press.
- Provide a place for reflection and intimate contemplation for the public and serve as a focal point for those personally connected to fallen journalists.

Inspiration

- Serve as a beacon for freedom of the press and emphasize that a free and independent press is a worthy cause in the past, present, and future.
- Showcase America's commitment to a free press as a world-wide example and source of aspiration.
- Inspire young memorial visitors to consider a career in journalism.

Education

- Raise awareness and educate visitors about risks to a free press and the contributions of journalism as a pillar of democracy (i.e., the Fourth Estate).
- Illustrate journalists' role in witnessing, recording, and documenting historic events and seminal moments from diverse backgrounds and perspectives.
- Convey the breadth and depth of the various forms of journalism protected by free press principles.

Memorial Program

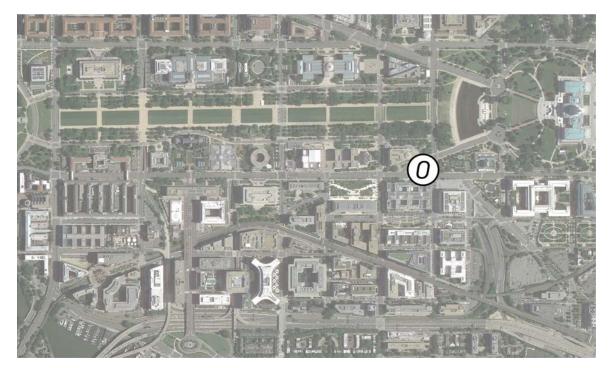

The desired site would accommodate a modestly sized, non-intrusive memorial without names or definitions that represents the full breadth of the news media – past, present and future. The program includes the following:

- A daily place of reflection to inspire respect for the sacrifice made by journalists in the cause of seeking truth to preserve our freedoms, and for family and friends to remember those journalists who have given their lives
- A focal point for understanding the First Amendment and how it has enabled the work of journalism in seeking truth to advance democracy and maintain freedom
- A convening place for commemorative events to honor journalists and to study the future of journalism in an evolving world
- An attraction that stimulates visitors to the Nation's Capital to access online educational programming to learn more about the importance of a free press to a functioning democracy

Site Criteria

Site Criteria	Details
Program Suitability	The site should provide adequate space for a physical memorial and group gatherings and programmatic events. A memorial at the site should protect public space and enhance public use while avoiding encroachment or interference with existing memorials.
Thematic Nexus	The context of the site should be thematically or conceptually connected to the purpose or content of the memorial. In addition, it should be in close proximity to the three branches of government. This will illustrate America's commitment to a press that is free from government control or oversight, while also critical to a functioning democracy.
Universal Accessibility	The site should be readily accessible not only to pedestrians and visitors to the nation's capital, but to journalists who live and work in the area.
Site Prominence and Visibility	The site should be visible to government leaders and visitors in a way that reinforces America's commitment to the freedom of the press.
Independence	The site should be nonadjacent to government buildings, highlighting the independent and essential role that journalists play in holding democratic institutions accountable to their citizens.
Site Availability	The site should be available through federal, District, or private properties. The site should not have known opposition to the placement of a memorial.
Transportation Access	This site should be accessible via public transportation.
Tranquility	The site should be a place that can offer a tranquil environment for reflection, commemoration and learning. Excessive noise, traffic, and other potential distractions are not desirable.
Infrastructure	The site should require minimal infrastructure improvements. Required changes, such as roadway improvements or relocated utility lines, would make potential sites more challenging.
