The Denver Service Center of the National Park Service is pleased to announce the beginning of the Alexander Hamilton Estate Grange and Other Sites Special Resource Study. The National Park Service is congressionally mandated to conduct this study regarding Estate Grange and Other Sites on St. Croix that are associated with Alexander Hamilton's childhood. The study team will evaluate the feasibility of including the sites in the national park system. The National Park Service will report its findings to Congress.

We invite the public to attend one or both of the public scoping meetings on August 11th and August 12th, 2009. The purpose of the scoping meetings is to inform the community about the study, identify issues, and obtain community comments, ideas, and opinions. Both meetings will include a short presentation followed by an informal public scoping period to gather information from the public about Hamilton's life on St. Croix. In addition, the public is encouraged to visit the project website for study information and to post related comments (<http://parkplanning.nps.gov/sero>).
