Sewall-Belmont House and Museum Washington DC

A workshop co-sponsored by the National Park Service - National Collaborative For Women's History Sites

In the Women's Heritage Initiative, NPS, NCWHS & other private partners...

1. Survey, analyze, and document the places and stories associated with American women and other under-represented groups to achieve greater diversity in the listings of the National Register of Historic Places and National Historic Landmark designations.
2. Facilitate research to identify candidates for additional sites and to train its interpreters and educators to support the expanded interpretation of women's history.

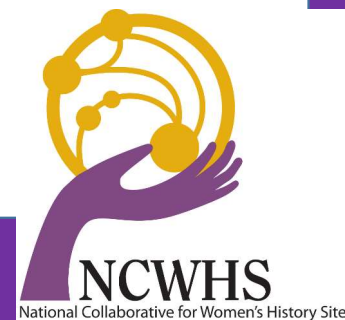

In the Women's Heritage Initiative, NPS, NCWHS & other private partners...

3. Develop an inclusive Interpretive Framework of Themes and Essential Questions based on current scholarship.
4. Develop and support a federal program to commemorate all American's stories.

In the Women's Heritage Initiative, NPS, NCWHS & other private partners...

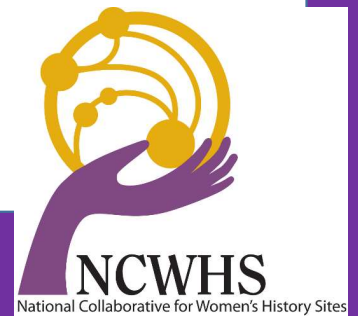

5. Revise NHL and NR criteria to remove institutionalized biases of gender, race, class, sexual orientation, ability, and religion. Include full diversity in the vision and implementation the 21st Century Civilian Conservation Corps.
6. Update NPS foundational documents to support a gendered understanding of America's pluralism through funding criteria and NPS guidance.

In the Women's Heritage Initiative, NPS, NCWHS & other private partners...

7. Develop and maintain web and mobile solutions, including but not limited to, a Women's History on the NPS website.

8. Hold a White House Women's Heritage conference that highlights American women's lives in their full diversity, showcasing the variety of resources available to tell these stories.
