Fort Sumter and Fort Moultrie National Historical Park Invites Public Input for Proposed Dock Replacement and Rehabilitation

SULLIVAN'S ISLAND, SC – The National Park Service is seeking public input on an environmental assessment (EA) that evaluates the impacts of replacing and rehabilitating the docks at Fort Sumter and Fort Moultrie National Historical Park. The docks at each fort are essential for transporting visitors and staff to the park. The Fort Sumter and Fort Moultrie Dock Replacement EA is available for review and comment through February 15, 2024.

Both the Fort Sumter and Fort Moultrie docks have deteriorated and do not provide adequate accessibility for visitors and staff. Updated docks would be able to accommodate a variety of vessel types, improve the current structures to last another 30 years, and enhance visitors' experiences with safe, continuous access to both Forts. The National Park Service proposal also accounts for climate change and increasing harbor traffic projections.

The National Park Service is also proposing to rehabilitate the dock at Liberty Square, which provides public ferry access to Fort Sumter. Proposed changes would improve safety and accessibility, while also enhancing visitor use.

The National Park Service is initiating a 30-day comment period and is seeking feedback on the proposed alternatives and environmental impact analysis presented in the EA. For more
